Autumn/winter 2012

Practical Problems for General Practitioners - Series 8

Four new sessions for General Practitioners hosted by the Institute of Health and Wellbeing, General Practice and Primary Care at the University of Glasgow.

An opportunity to hear the latest information from the experts and take part in informal discussion. Participants are encouraged to bring along cases they wish to discuss with the expert and colleagues.

These activities are approved by GP&PC, provide high standard of education and undoubtedly will be acceptable for the purposes of appraisal and revalidation. If you also bring along a case for discussion at the meeting or carry out any form of audit this will attract additional points.
